

Email 2

Subject line: Your access to the latest research goes where you do

Template message:

Dear [Name]

Catch up with developments in your area of chemistry, wherever you are

[Name of team] team are here to keep your R&D moving, even when working in the lab isn't an option.

You still have digital access to:

[list the RSC products you have available and hyperlink to how to access, if appropriate. Visit rsc.li/toolkit to browse the journal reference list in your librarian toolkit]

If you are interested in RSC publications, visit [link to your intranet page] or speak to [name and job title of contact].

If you have any other questions about our support, or suggestions about ways we might help you, please get in touch.

[Sign off name]